Speaker biography

Lisa Taylor

Lisa Taylor, Founder, Coherent Cities and Executive Director, Future of London

With an extensive background in project management, communications and stakeholder relations, Lisa created Coherent Cities after six years building the reputation, reach and capacity of cross-sector network Future of London as CEO. A sought-after facilitator and advisor, on The Planner's Women of Influence list since 2016, Lisa also worked at director level around the world, delivering complex projects and government negotiations for clients including CBS, Land Rover and the Canadian Navy (yes, we have one).

Future-wise, she owns Blade Runner (original), Star Trek (reboot) and the Firefly series, and likes District 9. Expect post-apocalypse with a dash of fun.
